

FINDING MAPS ON THE INTERNET - LINKS
REVISED FEBRUARY 2015
Ted Bainbridge, Ph.D.

Many genealogical situations are easier to understand if you have a suitable map. Here are some links that will help you find maps you want. The foreign countries listed are the most common among Americans' ancestries.

If you click the link you want to use, your computer will go to that site. The internet changes every day, so some of these links might disappear in the future.

General Searches

The Perry-Castañeda Collection at <http://www.lib.utexas.edu/maps/> has thousands of maps, covering all parts of the world with wide-ranging times and themes.

<http://www.culturalresources.com/Maps.html> links to a huge variety of worldwide maps of all time periods.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Ancestry\_of\_the\_people\_of\_the\_United\_States maps the dominant ancestries of United States citizens.

Old or Ecclesiastical Maps
(U.S. and Individual States)

<http://www.libs.uga.edu/darchive/hargrett/maps/colamer.html> is a collection of North American maps from the colonial era.

Every time a state changed any of its county boundaries, a new map was created. Complete sets for each state are at <http://homepages.rootsweb.ancestry.com/~george/countyformations/formationmaps.html> Type the name of the state (using all lower-case letters) in place of the ■ symbol. There are no blanks before and after that symbol.

Old or Ecclesiastical Maps
(Any Country)

Old maps of any country are at http://commons.wikimedia.org/wiki/Category:Old\_maps\_of\_■ with the name of the country (using mixed-case letters) in place of the ■ symbol. There are no blanks before and after that symbol.

Other old maps of any country are at http://commons.wikimedia.org/wiki/Atlas\_of\_■ with the ■ symbol used as above.

<http://www.gracegalleries.com/> is a commercial site that offers free images of maps they sell. Their collections cover many places, times, and subjects. Read their tutorials.

Old or Ecclesiastical Maps
(British Isles)

First, find the place on a modern map. Go to <http://www.genuki.org.uk/big/Gazetteer/> and type a place in the search box. A map appears. Zoom and pan as you wish. The map cannot be downloaded, but you can grab the screen image. How you do that depends on which computer and software you have. After you know the exact location of your research task, you can look for an old map.

http://www.streetmap.co.uk/grid/430500\_581500\_120 has zoomable and panable maps. Right-clicking doesn't work well; grab the screen image.

<http://www.visionofbritain.org.uk/maps/> has maps of England, Scotland, Ireland, and Wales from 1805 through 1958. Look at all four tabs' offerings, then click the map series that covers the area and time you want. A map appears. In its lower right corner is a small map that shows where you are in the British Isles. Pan and zoom as you like. Right-click an image to save it on your computer.

Go to <http://www.genuki.org.uk/search/> and put "maps" without quotes in the search box. This searches all GENUKI (Genealogy in the United Kingdom and Ireland) resources and shows many collections of maps.

<http://maps.familysearch.org/> has parish, diocese, poor law union, and other kinds of maps for England only. The print/save function is flawed, so grab the screen image.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/List\_of\_Roman\_Catholic\_dioceses\_in\_England\_and\_Wales is an ecclesiastical site for England and Wales.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/List\_of\_Roman\_Catholic\_dioceses\_in\_Ireland is an ecclesiastical site for Ireland.

If Those Sites
Don't Have What You Want

Go to the Family History Research Wiki at https://familysearch.org/learn/wiki/en/Main\_Page . In the search box at the left of the screen type “map” without quotes and the country, state, or county you want. Some links lead to maps, while others go to tutorials about various facets of genealogical research.

Do an internet image search and then a subject search for “historical map” or “historic map” without quotes, plus the name of the place you want to research. When you find something good, bookmark the site and grab the image.
